Child Is Badly Burned By Molasses

Edith Cavell, five-year-old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. G. J. Perry suffered a badly burned arm while visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gray near Horeb. The family had gone to the Gray home to spend the day, and shortly after arriving there went out to watch Mr. Gray and his helpers make molasses. The little girl was playing when in some unaccountable manner, she slipped and fell, plunging her arm to the elbow in the boiling syrup.

Child Chokes To Death on a Chestnut

Chester Kline, a year old of Pond Run, Ky., strangled to death Sunday after a piece of chestnut hull had become lodged in his throat. Death occurred after several doctors of the vicinity had been visited, all being unable to remove the obstacle. The child died at the home of his grandfather, James Pennington, of

"Slush Fund" Phrase Is Injected Into Ohio Campaign

COLUMBUS, O., October 21.—(By the United Press)—"Slush Fund," the phrase of the hour in national politics, was injected as an issue in the gubernatorial fight in Ohio today.

Ohio road contractors are contributing to an immense slush fund, to elect Harry J. Davis, Republican nominee for governor, according to J. A. Boulay, state highway director, who issued a statement on the subject.

"The contractors are being baited with golden promises of abundant work on their investment," Boulay asserted and challenged Davis to deny the charge.

"Subscriptions are being solicited from contractors to a fictitious Davis publication called 'Who's Who in Ohio' so that a report of these contributions need not be made."

Most Severe Drop In Hog Prices In Years

CHICAGO, October 21.—(By the Associated Press)—With demand so slow that more than 30,000 hogs were left over unsold today at the Union Stockyards, closing prices on hogs were $1.50 to $2.00 lower than Monday of last week. This is one of the most severe price declines in years.

The bulk of the hogs sold in Chicago brought around $9.25. Many sold around $9.00. Everett C. Brown, president of the stock exchange, said that commission men were urgently advising the holding back of pigs and hogs shipments during the remainder of the week. He predicted a sharp reaction from the break in prices if the country shippers would do this.

Scores Flee As Judge Threatens Clean-Up

CROMWELL, OKLA., October 21.—(By the Associated Press)—Cromwell, newest of Oklahoma's boom oil towns, today awaited the convening by Judge G. C. Crump, of a court of inquiry into alleged vice and crime conditions here.

Judge Crump arrived last night and planned to begin taking testimony this afternoon.

Under the threat of his arrival, scores of men and women fled to safer haunts. Houses from which have emanated the jangling notes of revelry were dark last night, their inmates gone. Narcotic peddlers, gamblers and bootleggers joined the legions, fearful lest they might join the "chain gang," which Judge Crump declares he will send to the jail at Wewoka, Seminole county seat.

Members of Cromwell's underworld know Judge Crump's "chain gang." Early in September he cast the shadow of the law over the oil field town and before violators had time to leave many were arrested, handcuffed to a sixty foot chain and marched to Wewoka in custody of deputy sheriffs.

Cromwell is to vote October 25 on a proposal to incorporate the town, but at present is merely a collection of frame buildings, thrown up along dusty, crooked streets. Law enforcement is a matter largely of intermittent effort.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Louis H. Marsh was a charming hostess on Monday afternoon when she entertained the members of the Youngmen's Circle at her attractive home on Logan street. She was assisted in extending the hospitality of the afternoon by her mother Mrs. Dicie Mehling of Newport, Ky., and Mrs. Charles Knost.

Fall flowers and Halloween novelties were used in decorating the Marsh home, baskets of dahlias, used at vantage points throughout the lower floor. The afternoon was spent socially and at two o'clock a beautifully appointed refreshment course, was served. The table was decorated with a bowl of cosmos and yellow shaded candles and the favors and place cards were also in keeping with the Halloween season. Those present included the following:

Mrs. Steve Marsh, Mrs. Charles C. Taylor, Mrs. Clifford Baker, Mrs. James G. Bennett, Mrs. Arthur Young, Mrs. Cloice Freeman, Mrs. Charles Knost, Miss Helen Sprague, Miss Audrey Reeg, Miss Mary McClure, Mrs. Dicie Mehling and Mrs. L. H. Marsh. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Helen Sprague.

Group 10 of Trinity Ladies Aid Society will hold an all day sewing bee tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Youngman on Harvard street. All members are urged to attend.

The Merry Makers Club will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Clark on Moulton Place.

KIRSCHBAUM CLOTHES

"Lower the Cost of Dressing Well"

Good fabrics---first!

ELEGANT style and skillful tailoring are of no avail unless sound all-wool fabrics form the foundation. Therein lies the secret of the extraordinary satisfaction-giving quality of Kirschbaum Clothes. Good fabrics come first—to which are applied talented designing and expert needlework.

$35 to $50

The styles now ready for you are approved Fall-1924 models. The choice fabrics, the linings, the trimmings, every thread will stand the most critical test of service. There are no better clothes made at prices so moderate; Kirschbaum Clothes lower the cost of dressing well.

Bandits Rob Bank While They Battle With Citizens

LITTLE SIoux, IOWA, Oct. 21.—Several blasts were required to open the safe. The first aroused the village and residents surrounded the bank, firing through the doors and windows. The fire was returned by the robbers as they worked.

Four bandits robbed the vault of the Little Sioux Savings Bank shortly after midnight, while residents carried on a pistol fight with them. They escaped with $4,000.

Guard Condemned Murderers To Prevent Their Escape

MONTREAL, October 21.—(By the United Press)—Twenty heavily armed provincial police guarded the Bordeaux jail today following receipt of threats that five condemned murderers awaiting execution on Friday will be released.

Mounted police will be added to the guard tomorrow and on the day set for the hanging 100 armed guards will line the route of the death march.

The men, Tony Frank, Louis Morel, Frank Glimbert, Mike Valentine, and Giuseppe Scarpini are to be hanged for the murder of a chauffeur during a hold-up last April.

The supreme court and the court of appeals denied all efforts to interfere in behalf of the condemned men.

Arrest Made in Crime Committed 12 Years Ago

ASHLAND, Ky., Oct. 21.—A crime committed twelve years ago in Magoffin county came to light here today with the arrest of a man supposed to be Bud Collins, alias Bud Caldwell after the Ashland police had been given a tip that the man was working in that city.

The story buried by the arrest goes back twelve years ago to Oil Springs, in Magoffin county when Collins, then a mere youth, was sentenced of a girl and had his rival Mack Bailey. The murder caused by jealous occurred as Bailey was riding down a country road on horseback and met Collins coming in the opposite direction. Collins shot Bailey from his horse and heeling, dashed away.

Award Contract for Otway High School

McCabe and Proctor, general contractors, this city were awarded the general contract for the construction of the new high school at Otway when the Otway Board of Education met last night and awarded contracts. Thomas Ashpaw, this city landed the plumbing contract and the Walters Electric Company the electrical wiring contract. Contracts for the heating and ventilating systems will be awarded later. The building when completed will cost about $30,000.

Architects Ripenour and Wile of Portsmouth prepared the plans for the new structure to be erected back of the present school building. The high school planned calls for a combination gym and auditorium, large study hall, three recitation rooms, domestic science and manual training rooms and laboratory.

30 Accessions

The four weeks series of meetings which have been conducted by Rev. Charles Frye of the Sandy Springs M. E. church, closed Sunday night with thirty accessions to the church. W. W. Donaldson, 1021 Second street, assisted with the services. The Sandy Springs band was very liberal with their music and the pastor wishes to express his appreciation.

THE GUMPS—HOMeward BOUND

I'M GLAD WE'RE GOING HOME—I AM AFRAID THE MAID HAS FORGOTTEN WHAT I TOLD HER ABOUT CHANGING THE CURTAINS.

THERE YOU GO WORRYING ABOUT THE CURTAINS RIGHT NOW WHILE I AM IN THE HOME STRETCH IN MY RACE FOR THE WHITE HOUSE—YOU OUGHT TO HAVE SOMETHING MORE IMPORTANT TO WORRY ABOUT THAN CURTAINS.

WHAT DO YOU WANT ME TO DO? WRITE YOUR POLITICAL SPEECHES?

NO—I'LL WRITE MY OWN SPEECHES WITHOUT YOUR HELP—BUT I EXPECT YOU TO SHOW A LITTLE INTEREST IN THIS CAMPAIGN—DON'T FORGET YOUR HUSBAND, ANDREW GUMP, IS ONE OF THE CANDIDATES?

OH, I'M BORED TO DEATH WITH POLITICS—IF I HAD KNOWN THERE WAS TO BE SO MUCH TROUBLE AND FUSS I WOULD NOT HAVE LET YOU RUN.

WHERE DO YOU GET THAT STUFF—YOU WOULDN'T LET ME RUN—YOU DIDN'T HAVE ANYTHING TO DO WITH IT—WHEN I'M ELECTED I'LL THANK THE VOTERS OF THIS COUNTRY, NOT YOU—BUT YOU'RE NOT THE FIRST AUTOMOBILE HORN THAT THOUGHT IT WAS THE ENGINE.

What Is The Community Chest?

Frequent meetings of the Community Chest Committee are resulting in the careful formulation of plans for the year's campaign to fill the chest for the sake of the unfortunate and needy for the needy of the city and state.

What is the Community Chest? In the face of the fact that the chest has been the care of the various social agencies this year, there are still those who ask as to its purpose and objects. To answer these questions the committee has prepared the following statement:

"We want to better the living conditions of the people who are all around us. We want to find and use effective means and methods of permanent bettering the health of the individual, the family, and the community."

"The Community Chest being a quasi-public organization administers the funds contributed by the public for the public good."

"The Community Chest is the agency of the community. Its duties are to improve social conditions and build this improvement upon a permanent foundation. This program is constructive and reconstructive, persistently devoted to elevating the standards of the community."

"We want to shelter the sick, the crippled, the homeless, the deserted, and continue protecting all who need help, but we want to help the unfortunate to help themselves. We want to improve housing conditions, protect mothers and children, care for the social failure. We want to elevate the sick, prevent delinquency, cruelty and standard of citizenship. We want to show the public this need and point the way to an opportunity and responsibility for this social service and what is being done with the community money contributed for the public good."

"For many years there were various agencies without co-ordination working separate and apart to some plan perhaps, but without a very definite purpose. Coordination of effort makes social service fit into any plan leading to a definite goal. Through this plan now in effect but one year, the entire social situation as a whole will be improved."

"The Community Chest and its seven constituent agencies, The Bureau of Community Service, The American Red Cross, The Salvation Army, The Home for Aged Women, The Girl Scouts, The Boy Scouts, and The Hopelands Mission cover practically all phases of social service as indicated by their name. These coming under the budget and supervision of the Community Chest Committee make for an expenditure in perfect harmony with the results achieved and entirely without the possibility of incurring a public debt."

These are your problems and worthy of your support. We must have a heart and support the Community Chest. Suppose nobody cared?

Kellogg's Bran did more in two weeks than medicine taken in 20 years

Out of regard for your own health, read this letter:

Gentlemen:

Your "Krumbled Bran," used by me as a cereal, has done more for me in two weeks than the hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine I have taken in last twenty years for constipation. It is wonderful and it is so simple.

Yours truly,
Arlington H. Carman,
Patchogue, N. Y.

Mr. Carman's experience has been duplicated in thousands of homes. Why? Because Kellogg's Bran succeeds where drugs and pills fail. The answer is simple. Drugs have an unnatural effect upon the bowels. They irritate the intestines. The more they are used, the more one has to use. Finally, they have no effect at all.

Kellogg's Bran STIMULATES the intestines. It cleans, sweeps and purifies them. It acts exactly as nature acts. And it is never necessary to increase the amount eaten. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief to the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. For Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's.

The wonderful, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran is exclusive. It is delicious—totally unlike ordinary bran. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipes on every package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

If your stomach is easily upset; if you suffer with indigestion, headaches, heartburn, dizzy spells, bloating, you can depend on it—Aloha! (too much acid in the stomach) is to blame.

Thousands have found quick, pleasant relief from all these ills by taking Haley's Magnesia-Oil, the new scientific combination of pure mineral oil and milk of magnesia.

Get a bottle of Haley's at your druggist's today and keep it handy on the bathroom shelf. At the first sign of indigestion or constipation take a good swallow of Magnesia-Oil and see how soon you are all fixed up.

The fine quality milk of magnesia contained in Haley's M-O neutralizes stomach acids and the pure mineral oil lubricates the intestine, enabling the body to cast off the waste poisons that always bring sickness in their wake.

Haley's is absolutely harmless. You can give it to the children without the slightest fear. It is splendid for old folks, too, because it corrects constipation without griping or forming a habit. All druggists sell Haley's, trial size 25c, economical family size $1. Doctors and nurses recommend it. The Haley M-O Company, Indianapolis, Ind.

POLICE NEWS

Joseph Friend was found guilty of intoxication and he was fined $10 and costs, and James Ackermann, 1114 N. Main and Sam Nash were taxed $5 and costs on similar charges while J. D. Jackson and Dave Johnson were assessed the costs and given thirty days in jail for intoxication with the jail sentence suspended pending good behavior.

Mrs. Helen Fletcher, 2325 Ninth street, pleaded not guilty to a disorderly conduct complaint filed by W. A. Estep, and the hearing was continued until Tuesday to give the accused time to bring her witnesses into court.

By consent of the court, the affidavits charging Clifford Gullett, David Waddell and Henry Waddell with fighting at their home on Kenyon street, were withdrawn.

Paul Hanson, steelworker, was penalized $10 and costs in Municipal court Monday for speeding and W. O. Beach was assessed $5 and costs for a similar offense.

Lloyd Wood, 18, and Chester Davis, 17, arrested for speeding when caught racing their machines on Gallia street Sunday were released and let go on their promise not to drive again for sixty days.

Judge Sprague in Municipal court yesterday heard the evidence in the case of Nelson Stidham of Jackson's Fork, charged with possession of a still, 14 barrels of mash and other property designed for the manufacture of liquor and then took the case under advisement.

The court also continued the cases of Alex. Clark and Richard Smith, both of near Effort, charged with possession of liquor, pending a further investigation. The men were arrested on information furnished by Hobart Waddell following his arrest a week ago when caught transporting liquor when bringing the fruit to a customer in this city. Waddell said he obtained the liquor from 1141 but has since changed his story, it was stated.

BIRTHS

A son was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Edward White, of Cincinnati, who formerly resided in Portsmouth.

ABIE, THE AGENT

He Has Himself To Blame

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—Please tell the soldier boys how long it will be before they get their pension, or compensation? Some of them think it will be twenty years, while others do not know how long it will be. I will look for an answer to this soon.

SOLDIER'S WIFE.
I have no information on the subject of pension or compensation. I have seen some time ago, and that was to take up the matter early in 1924. Of course you realize that no matter how fast they work they can't take care of all the soldiers in a few days or weeks and some of them will have to wait until their turn comes. If your husband has filed out his blanks and returned them to the proper place, he will stand as good a chance of an early adjustment as anyone else, but you will have to be patient until his turn comes.

Dear Dolly—To settle an argument, I would like to know if a girl or boy can get married in this state at the age of 16, if they have a written certificate from the parents giving their consent.

WANT-TO-KNOW.
They can, if the certificate is signed in the presence of a notary public but they can't bring an action to get back the certificate. I think they can get back the certificate at the office of the probate judge that the clerk can fill out and sign before a notary.

Dear Dolly—I am planning to have a big Halloween party, Saturday night and I would like for you to give me some ideas as to games and decorations, refreshments, etc.

Please give me all you have on this and I will appreciate it very much. JOLLY ENTERTAINER.
Since I have received quite a number of letters asking for Halloween suggestions, I am going to answer them all together, and I hope I won't have any more questions on this subject this year.

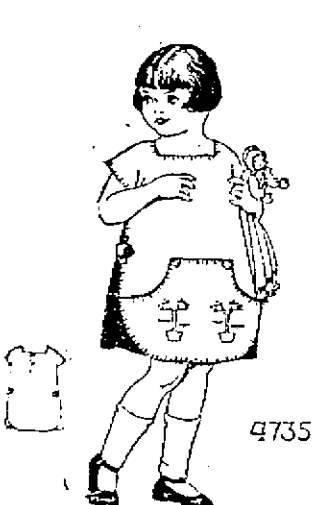

The usual Halloween games that are indulged in by grown-ups will also do for children. Bobbing for apples is great fun. Use tin tubs filled with water. Then drop a number of apples. Those you will find will float. The object is to catch an apple between the teeth, each one being given three trials. The one catching the most apples should receive an appropriate prize, say a large apple filled with candy. Use separate tubs for the boys as it would be unfair to use the same tub for the girls because a boy will often put his head almost to the bottom in quest of an apple, whereas a girl cannot duck very far without getting her entire head wet. Then you can have apples swinging from the chandelier and have the kiddies try to take a bite—prizes usually given to the lucky ones. For grownups the young people can play a game of pinning the tail on the donkey. This is a game of pinning the tail on the donkey. The donkey is a picture of a donkey with a tail cut out. The players are given a piece of string to pin to the donkey's tail. The one who pins the most tails wins.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spriggs of Lucasville, O., was the scene of a delightful event Sunday when a host of relatives gathered there for a surprise party in honor of Mr. Spriggs' 55th birthday anniversary and his son, Mr. Frank Spriggs' 27th birthday anniversary. The gathering of the relatives was a complete surprise to both and they received many presents. At noon delicious dinner was served in the dining room, where two large birthday cakes and beautiful bouquets of fall flowers decorated the table and covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spriggs, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spriggs, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Masala and grandson William Cox and daughter Norma and son Bobbie, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spriggs and daughters Naomi and Sarah Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Orni Spriggs and sons Harold and Brant, Mr. Ray Call, all of Portsmouth; Mr. Willie Spriggs of Blawie, Mr. John Brainerd of Blawie, Mr. Hilda Praxler of Portsmouth, Mr. Stella Bucann and children, Dorothy, Cathryn, Harry, Samuel and baby Richard of Lucasville, Miss Eva Sprigg and Mr. Earl Spriggs. After the dinner all enjoyed a social and pleasant afternoon.

The members of the Knights of Columbus will entertain at their hall on Wednesday evening, October the twenty-second, with a Five Hundred party for the pleasure of their wives and sweethearts.

Sallic Ann SAYS

It's a little late in coming, but I think old Dave Cheatwood's prophecy of a long, hard winter is about to materialize. You're really going to need that beautiful coat you've been planning on, 'ere long, and The Fashion is certainly prepared to suit your most fastidious fancy. You'll find, not one, but so many in the size and shade you want, that you'll have some difficulty in deciding which one you like the best. As I passed thru the coat section this morning I heard one woman say: "Really, Mr. Atlas, there are four coats here that I like equally well, and, honestly, to save my life I can't decide which one to take." I was told that she finally decided on a Moline wrap in Cinnabar shade with a mushroom collar and deep cuffs of ring-tail O'possum.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy is the best. Fast and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is very easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs, colds and croup.

Into a pint bottle, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use cinchona molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thinning and disengaging. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

The Seventeenth Floor of the Sky

"Why, my dear sir!" said the apple-tree fairy to the frog, "who ever heard of a puddle in the sky?"

Daddy Gander hid his magic dust-pun in the boughs of the apple tree and the Twins got into the little elevator run by the apple-tree fairy.

"Ding, ding!" went the fairy. "All aboard for the sky!"

He pushed a thingamabob and pulled a thingamabob, and the little elevator started to go up.

Up and up and up it went until it came to the seventeenth floor of the sky.

When the apple-tree fairy pushed open a door made out of a piece of cloud and they all stepped out.

"What a funny place!" Nancy couldn't help but exclaim.

"I knew you would think so," said the apple-tree fairy. "But it is the best we can do. Such funny things get blown up to the sky."

Hardly had he finished speaking when he heard a frog.

"Oh, sir," croaked the frog. "Won't you please find me a puddle? I'm so homesick I don't know what to do."

"Why, my dear sir!" said the apple-tree fairy to the frog, "who ever heard of a puddle in the sky? Couldn't you swim around in a cloud or something?"

"It's very poor swimming," said the frog.

"Well," said the apple-tree fairy.

The Otterbein Girls of the United Brethren church will hold a rummage sale today at the old Busy Bee Restaurant on Eleventh street near Findlay.

The Barnea Class of the First Baptist church will meet this evening at the home of Eli Coriell, 1524 Eleventh street.

"I'll put you down in my book. When there is another waterspout, I'll send you down to the earth."

"Thank you," said the frog. By this time the apple-tree fairy was surrounded by all sorts of creatures, each clamoring to be heard.

"Mister Fairy Man!" said a big turkey gobbler. "There is no corn or here and I'm getting as thin as a rail, trying to eat broom straws."

"Well, I should think you would thank me for that," said the fairy, "it being so near to Thanksgiving and everything. But be patient. All the farmers are filling up their corn cribs down on the earth. It is only a matter of a few days until a tornado is sure to come along and blow bushels of corn up into the sky. By the way, did you see the Cow-With-the-Crim-ples-Tail and the Rooster-That-Crowed-in-the-Morn?"

"I'll go and ask the Scare-Crow," said the gobbler.

"Pretty soon he came slowly back. 'They are not here,' he said. 'The Scare-Crow knows them well and he would be sure to know.'"

"Dear, dear!" said Daddy Gander. "Let us go and look for ourselves."

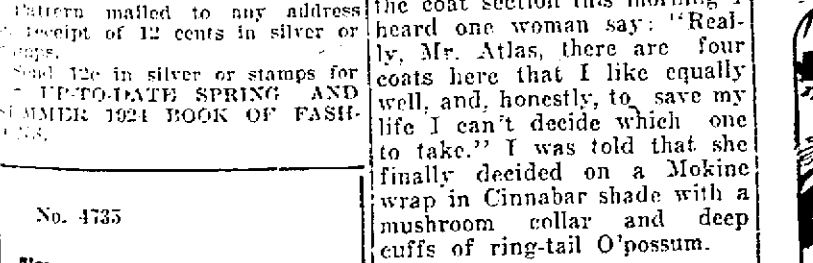

But the Tattered-Man and his wife were not to be found. Or Jack's house either. "Something else must have happened to it," said Daddy Gander. "I don't know what," said the apple-tree fairy. "I surely hope they find it. It had such a cute front porch in everything. I watched every nail he put into it."

They all got into the elevator and ding, ding! Back they came to the apple tree where Daddy Gander found his magic dust-pun just as he had left it.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

The mahout, or guide, started thrusting a little stick with a jagged point into the elephant's side to make him move forward. The great animal approached the tiger cautiously. Then there came another roar and the tiger crouched down, ready for a spring. Jack was very much excited.

The tiger hunter took aim and fired the rifle. The shot only slightly wounded the tiger, who leaped into the air with a roar. Another shot rang out but it was too late to head off the ferocious animal. In a instant the tiger was on the elephant's trunk and starting to climb up toward the hunter.

The guide, who still sat on the elephant's neck, jumped to his feet and then leaped to the ground, trying this time the tiger had its front paws on the box and seemed about ready to spring again. Jack had crouched back as far as he could but the tiger seemed almost on top of him. (Continued.)

Thrills of India—

The mahout, or guide, started thrusting a little stick with a jagged point into the elephant's side to make him move forward. The great animal approached the tiger cautiously. Then there came another roar and the tiger crouched down, ready for a spring. Jack was very much excited.

The tiger hunter took aim and fired the rifle. The shot only slightly wounded the tiger, who leaped into the air with a roar. Another shot rang out but it was too late to head off the ferocious animal. In a instant the tiger was on the elephant's trunk and starting to climb up toward the hunter.

Hon. Nicholas Klein Tells Local Union Workers Why He Should Be Elected to Supreme Court; Gets Fine Reception

That Hon. Nicholas Klein of Cincinnati, widely known labor attorney is popular in Portsmouth as attested by the large audience which packed the "Mummers' Hall" last night to hear Mr. Klein's talk on why he should be elected to the short term on the Ohio Supreme Court. He was in splendid voice and for almost two hours gained the rapt attention of those present while discussing the reasons why he should be elected. His argument was so reasonable and so impressive that frequently he had to stop talking to acknowledge the continuous applause.

"I have a burning desire to be the first labor candidate elected to the highest court in Ohio and I feel that with your assistance my election will be assured," Mr. Klein told his audience. "I was beaten when I ran for this office before by only 15 votes. This time I feel that I am a sure winner, but you union men must get out and work for me and spread the news that I am a candidate."

At the close of the meeting Mr. Klein was congratulated on all sides for the splendid and forceful talk he made. He said in part:

"Many of you may wonder why I should leave my home and family and make a state-wide campaign for the short term of the Supreme Court, as I am doing. I seek this office for one purpose alone. I don't want to wear a robe or sit like a barn-owl on the bench—I want to use the point of vantage of this office to denounce on all sides the bench of our republic. I am to work for a classless court and to elevate our courts to a place where equal justice can be had by all classes of our people. Many of our workers have come to feel that they cannot look for justice when a corporation seeks an injunction in a labor dispute, that the courts in a large measure have become the agencies of organized greed as Roosevelt once said. We must get rid of this feeling, we must restore our courts in the good graces of our people, because when the people lose confidence in our courts, there is real danger to our government."

"The first injunction in a labor case was granted in 1858, just 36 years ago, and since that time they have increased in number and in their scope, until it has become one of our great problems. The question now is at issue whether judge made law shall replace law made in an orderly manner by representatives of the people, or by the people themselves. Shall the courts rule us, or shall the people of our country be the rulers of their own destiny?"

"The writ of injunction is proper where there is no adequate remedy at law, and was never intended in labor disputes or to become a means of breaking strikes. Judges have often become the real strike-breakers, for the injunction destroys all the guarantees given us as a free people by our constitution, for the injunction substitutes for the law of the land, his own whim or caprice. Government by judges must go—we want a government by law. The constitution guarantees trial by jury, the injunction judge stands for no jury. If his order is violated, the man is jerked before him, there is no jury, and the man who made the order is the prosecutor, judge and all, rolled in one. No other country in the world would stand for it. In no other country in the world, do they permit a judge to set aside laws made by the people or their representatives."

"We had a fine example in the N. & W. Ry. strike of two years ago, when I appeared for our Portsmouth boys in the U. S. court. Mr. Daugherty, and his men asked for 300 injunctions to break that strike—they were granted 300—not one was refused. The miners had a taste of it. They tried to strike, to quit their work against conditions which they thought were unjust, but U. S. Judge Anderson of Indianapolis, issued a blanket injunction preventing them from quitting work, although we are told that slavery and involuntary servitude has been abolished years ago."

"Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania warned the American Bar Ass'n recently that we were headed for trouble as the courts have gotten away from their proper functions. There is more disorder here in strike cases than all countries in the world combined, for in other countries, worker and employer seek to adjust their troubles and they do not use the courts as a cats-paw and disorder is almost unknown."

Judges have sent editors to jail for ordinary criticism. Its getting intolerable. We are headed for trouble if we continue. The people must curb the courts and bring them back to sanity. "Personally, I want to know that I believe the people have the same right to criticize a judge as any other official. I fail to see any harm in it. An honest judge need have no fear of the common people. I believe in trial by jury in every case where a man is charged with contempt, and I should not be tried by the same judge who claims to have been offended."

"Two years ago I ran for this same office and lost by 15 votes. This time I have no Republican against me, and I expect to win without trouble. The short term was made vacant by the death of our good friend Judge Wannamaker, one of the best men who ever sat on any bench. He was an idealist and a man who was against the very things I am trying to defeat."

"The great trouble is, most of the people get excited about the Governor, the Sheriff, or a Presidential candidate. Make me a judge and I can run every one of them. Let the Congress pass its laws and let the judges be allowed to continue. The judges have assumed this power, the constitution does not give it to them and this abuse of power has caused and will cause much trouble."

"Now what is a judge? Just a human being, a lawyer who was nominated and elected. He has the same feelings, the same prejudices as before, he is not god-like—he is a man with all our faults and failures."

"About half our people don't take the trouble to vote the Judicial Ballot at all, as its non-partisan and a separate ballot entirely. I want to say to you that it is the important one of all the ballots, and I urge you to vote it. If you do not believe in which I stand for, I don't want your votes. I want men and women to vote for me for the short term Judgeship on the issues I represent and no other. I am against government by an injunction and I stand for government by law. The injunction is not law and it is not order, it leads to the very opposite. It was every labor trouble a trouble some one. Some day we have to get rid of labor troubles, of hopes and of things growing out of our peculiar industrial system. Just now we must live in it and while we must make the best of it, forced will never solve any problem—it only leads to more force."

"I am urging the people of Scioto county to work and vote for me for the short term of the Supreme Court on the basis I have outlined. There is no judge on the Supreme bench from southern Ohio and we have never had a labor judge in the U. S. I want to show that a labor judge can do things and can dispense justice instead of the old idea of dispensing with justice when organized greed's interests are at stake."

Mr. Klein lives in Cincinnati, where he was born, and has been labor lawyer for over 15 years. He represented the shoe workers of Portsmouth in their troubles of years ago, the Building Trades Council and many other bodies. He left for Columbus where he will speak at a mass meeting Tuesday night. Union crafts represented at the meeting included:

Railroad Engineers, Railroad Brakes, Railroad Conductors, Brick Layers, Carpenters, Plumbers, Painters, Tinsmiths, Plasterers, Machinists, Barbers, Street Railway Employees, Electrical Workers, Bartenders and Bakers.

Local Grocers at Convention

President I. B. Thompson, Secretary Earl Wendelken, Ben F. Stewart, A. H. Dodds, Walter Doer and Alva Chabot are local grocers and members of the Cincinnati Retail Grocers' Association, who are in Cincinnati attending the 25th annual convention of the Ohio Retail Grocers' and Dealers' Association held at the Hotel Gibson from Monday to Thursday. Mr. Wendelken is a director in the state organization. He was pictured in the Cincinnati Enquirer Monday along with other directors of the State Association.

P. H. S. Plays Lancaster Next Saturday

The P. H. S. football squad went through a stiff practice session Monday getting ready for the Lancaster game in Lancaster Saturday. The game Saturday resulted in no injuries to the players, and they are in midseason form. They will probably open up with some real live football Saturday with Lancaster, as they will have to show something besides straight football to do much against this worthy foe.

The Sea Hawk Pleased Capacity Crowds at Columbia Last Night

Once in a long time there comes to the screen a photograph of such magnitude, such general excellence and such stirring appeal as to lift it high above all others and establish it as a new high standard for attainment. Such a photograph is "The Sea Hawk," a First National Picture, produced and directed by Frank Lloyd and the current attraction at the Columbia Theatre.

"The Sea Hawk" is that rare combination of an exceptionally fine story, a theme which grips one at the outset and tightens it with each succeeding scene, a superb piece of direction and a remarkable historical demonstration by every member of the unusually large and well known cast.

Beautiful Romance. In "The Sea Hawk" Sabatini lives up to his title of "the modern Don Quixote." His romance with Sir Olaf is the most unusual of the screen has known, his situations are logical and decidedly entertaining, and he has given his characters real work to do.

Transferring Sabatini's dream Lloyd has established himself firmly as one of our truly great directors and producers. He has faithfully visualized the novel, has builded his play with extreme care and made the utmost of every situation with the result that the twelve reels of the big drama so envelop one with their dramatic brilliance that one is fairly carried away by them. It required a lot of courage and a lot of ability to undertake such a gigantic venture as the picturization of "The Sea Hawk," but Mr. Lloyd has handled each of the numerous big sequences with great skill.

Milton Sills is seen as Sir Oliver Tressilian, later Sak-el-Bahr, the bravest commander on the seas, and makes of the character a more dominant screen personality than even "Robin Hood." Mr. Sills has been the hero of many big plays, but never have we seen any character demand so much of an actor or an actor make so much of his character.

Fine Characterization. Enid Bennett makes of Rosamund Godolphin a sincere, demure English maid. Wallace Beery as the freebooter, Jasper Leigh establishes himself as peer of screen pirates and gives to his character a touch of genuine humor. Lloyd Hughes as Lionel, Oliver's brother, does the best work of his career.

"The Sea Hawk" should satisfy all expectations. Never have there been four such gigantic real ships used in a motion picture before. In fact, never have there been four real ships of this type, regardless of size, ever used in a picture before.

The settings are superb: the Algerian city is quaintly picturesque, and the several sea battles between the huge Sixteenth Century ships give us something fascinating, original and decidedly thrilling.

The picture comes closer to being real big entertainment than anything we have seen in a good long time.

The North Moreland Tigers are without a game next Sunday. They will play any football team in the city averaging about 140 pounds.

Southworth In Game

The Lima baseball team beat New Bremen last Sunday, 7 to 4. Billy Southworth of the Giants played in the outfield for Lima and cracked out two three sackers.

Confer Degree

Two candidates Harry Frye and Carl Seth received the first degree at last night's meeting of Soloto Lodge No. 3141 O. O. F. These candidates will receive the second degree next week. One application for transfer was received. Further plans were discussed for the homecoming to be held November 8.

From their questioning of the prisoners, the police also hope to throw light on the cases of Dorothy Keenan, Louise Lawson and Edith Bobe, Miss Keenan and Miss Lawson, "Broadway Bootleggers" were killed by robbers who ransacked their apartments. Miss Bobe held up in their apartment recently and robbed of jewelry valued at $50,000.

The four men were arrested after a bullet riddled automobile was found in a garage. Two of the men first were arrested for the holdup of Joseph Holstein, from whom $200 was stolen on Saturday night on the street.

Subsequent developments led to the arrest of the other two in their homes. The prisoners described themselves as Louis Fishkin of Manhattan, Abraham Gran, Jacob Kiviat, and Louis Kiviat, all of Brooklyn.

The diamond-cluster ring was found in the possession of Fishkin. A woman friend identified the ring as resembling Mrs. Heyworth's. Confined to her bed from a nervous breakdown since the robbery, Mrs. Heyworth did not attempt to identify the ring.

JOHN W. DAVIS EXPLAINS HIS ATTITUDE TOWARD WASHINGTON "DISARM" CONFERENCE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 21.—John W. Davis today concluded his campaign in Tennessee by declaring in a speech delivered in Nashville that he fully approved the results brought about by the Washington armament conference, but was "equally determined" that the American people should not be misled as to its scope or believe that it stands among the revolutionary and sublime achievements of the human race.

The Democratic nominee went into the subject of the conference with the statement that he had been criticized for "disparaging the purpose and the results of the Washington conference." He said that the American people should not be misled as to its scope or believe that it stands among the revolutionary and sublime achievements of the human race. Even Operation Failed To Help

So Mrs. Feist Turned To Tanlac and Got Relief.

"That Tanlac should bring back my health after everything else failed, makes it seem all the more wonderful to me," says Mrs. Cyril W. Feist, 1120 Wile St., Fort Wayne, Ind.

"I had suffered for years and finally submitted to a serious operation. Following this, I remained so nervous, discouraged. After ending in suffering from indigestion, which was accompanied by headaches, dizziness, coated tongue, restless sleep and that awful tired feeling. To say I was worried doesn't begin to express it.

"Tanlac surprised me with a fine appetite, good digestion and then my energy and strength came back rapidly. Four bottles did away with my troubles, increased my weight twelve pounds, brought the color of my face back and left me enjoying splendid health for five years. I certainly have good reasons for praising Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Nothing Quite So Good, Says Portsmouth Woman

"I had suffered with stomach trouble and catarrh for many months and could get no real relief until I got hold of Pepsogen," is the statement made recently by Mrs. Nannie Gross of 435 1-2 Second street.

"For at least a month before I started taking Pepsogen I had been hearing my friends talking about how good it was so at last I went to Fisher & Stretch's and got a bottle. My stomach had been in terrible shape. Everything I ate would sour and a gas would form and blast me up. I had pains in my side and up around my heart. At night my sleep was never sound and the catarrh trouble kept me upset. My head would feel stuffy in the morning and I usually had a dull headache. "Less than a week's use of Pepsogen made me feel like a different person. My stomach got stronger and I was able to eat a good, hearty meal and have no bad after effects."

"Now I sleep sound at night and get up in the morning with a clear head. I can surely recommend Pepsogen because of my own experience with the medicine. Pepsogen may be obtained in Portsmouth only at Fisher & Stretch's, and Kelo Pharmacy, New Boston. Advertisement.

MESQUITE, Tex., Oct. 21.—Intervention of the state, which left triplets at the home of Mrs. Robert Hall here Sunday night, brought temporary release to her husband from the state prison today.

One of the babies died Sunday but the other two will live. The family is destitute.

Hall, a World War veteran, slightly past 21, was sentenced to a long term in the penitentiary last May in connection with the killing of Winfield Knox, member of a "riotous" party. He went to the penitentiary without guard and was on his way home today alone.

Release of the prisoner for a visit with his family was granted by Acting Governor T. W. Davidson.

Local Men Fined

BRONTON, Oct. 21.—Two men, giving their names as Bud Pendleton, 24, and Henry Barbee, 27, both of Portsmouth, were arrested by Portsmouth officers for Coal Grove officials late Friday night and Saturday were brought before Mayor Willard Norris on an old charge of reckless driving and intoxication.

The case dated back several weeks when the men were placed under arrest by Officer Jack Dalton, of Coal Grove, after it is alleged, they speeded through the village. They gave the auto in which they rode as security, but later Ed C. Frowine took court action against Mayor Norris to recover the car, which he claimed was owned by him. Recognizing a suit of reputation Mayor Norris turned the auto over, but at once got on the trail of Pendleton and Barbee. They paid their fines and costs when arraigned in his court Saturday.

Dawes Report To Be Outstanding Issue In German Election

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—The Reichstag was dissolved by President Ebert yesterday.

After fitful efforts to construct a bourgeois bloc which would definitely control a safe majority in the Reichstag, Chancellor Marx appealed to President Ebert for a decree of dissolution and writs for new elections.

The refusal of the Democrats to participate in a ministry which extended only in the direction of the nationalists proved a deciding factor in the Chancellor's decision to abandon his negotiations, especially as his own party also was in open revolt against any pact which would drive the socialists into opposition.

As was the case in the spring campaign, the Dawes report again will be the outstanding issue in the forthcoming elections, in that the Democrats and Catholics will demand continuance of German's foreign policies along the lines enunciated by the retiring cabinet which were wholly dictated and shaped by the issues revolving around Germany's acceptance and fulfillment of the Dawes plan. In this both bourgeois parties have had the active support of the socialists.

The Chancellor exhausted every expedient at his command in order to avoid new elections, but the situation thrown into the situation by Stresemann's party, through its espousal of the nationalists and its open affront to the socialists made further parleys impossible.

Up to a late hour Chancellor Marx and his party colleagues in the cabinet as well as the Democrats sought to effect a truce whereby the present minority cabinet would be permitted to continue in office through sufferance of the nationalists and socialists on conditions that it would pursue the course already laid out.

DONAHAY IS ASSAILED FOR WAGING "WHISPERING" CAMPAIGN, BY DAVIS

TOLEDO, Oct. 21.—Why Governor Donahay could find time to wage a vigorous campaign two years ago, taking time out from his office as state auditor, but now says he must stick to his desk in Columbus, is one of the funny twists of the campaign which Harry L. Davis, candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket, said in an address here last night that he cannot understand.

Davis then launched into a denunciation of Donahay's policies, chief of which is the "Governor's refusal to come out before the people and answer questions outright."

It was charged by Davis that Donahay and his adherents were waging a "whispering campaign, filled with insinuations."

RICH CHICAGO WIDOW INDICTED FOR VIOLATION OF PROHIBITION LAW

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 21.—Indictments charging Mrs. Virginia O'Malley, widow of a Chicago millionaire and politician, with conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws were made public here today.

A federal grand jury returned the indictments Saturday following a police raid at a house alleged to have been rented by Mrs. O'Malley. The raid took place last evening. The arrests were made and Mrs. O'Malley, the Veals and Pearl Schulties, also indicted were released on bond pending grand jury investigation.

The Affair at Flower Acres

© 1924 by M.E.A. Service Inc.

THE AFFAIR AT REGIN HERE TODAY

The body of Douglas Raynor is found in the early evening on the floor of the sun parlor at Flower Acres, his Long Island home. Raynor, a well-known actor, had been shot through the heart, the bullet entering the left breast and passing through the right. The body was found by the maid, Nancy, who was standing by the door with her hand still on the light switch. In a moment she appears, white-faced and terrified. Orville Kent, Nancy's brother, comes in from the south side of the room, and then Ezra Goddard, friend of Finley, with others, enters upon the scene. "It was either Mr. Finley or Mrs. Raynor who fired that shot," accuses Nurse Turner. At last, to the satisfaction of the party, the police arrive on the scene to conduct an investigation. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

The chief, whose name was Pell, remained in the sun parlor with the physicians, but after a few moments there, Detective Dobbins, who had been assigned to the case, came into the living room and looked inquiringly about him. "I am Ezra Goddard," said the self-appointed spokesman, "a friend of the late Mr. Raynor. This is Mrs. Raynor, and Miss Malloy Raynor—a sister."

The others were introduced, both Finley and Kent acknowledging their names by the slightest of nods and some remarks were designated. Detective Dobbins sat down and as he rolled his head back eyes from one to another he rubbed his hands as if in active enjoyment of the situation. "Who was the last to see Mr. Raynor alive?" he began, in a most workmanlike way.

"That is the regulation question, Mr. Dobbins," said Goddard. "But, as usual, it is almost impossible to answer. If Mr. Raynor was shot by the hand of another, that individual was, of course, the last one to see him alive. If, on the other hand, Mr. Raynor committed suicide—"

"Slide!" cried the astounded Dobbins. "I have not been told that there is any suggestion of that!"

He looked like a man suddenly defrauded of his rights.

"It's not a question of suggestion, Mr. Dobbins," Goddard went on, suavely, "but of investigation. And a rational investigation must consider all possibilities."

"Quite so—quite so," Detective Dobbins began to wish that Mr. Goddard had never been born.

"Yes—that, is no—not into it—but to the door, and locked in."

"Yes, and after you went into the room what did you see—"

"My husband—but I told you I didn't go into the room!"

"You must have, to have seen your husband, for as he lay on the floor, there was a large table between him and the west door—you couldn't have seen him from the doorway."

"Oh, yes, I did—I'm positive I did."

"I think, Mr. Dobbins, you will gain little by questioning Mrs. Raynor further tonight. She is greatly unstrung."

"Excuse me, I think I shall gain a great deal by questioning Mrs. Raynor tonight. I must ask her not to interfere."

"Then, will you not let her rest a few moments, and return to her later?" Goddard's manner showed only concern for Nan's comfort.

"Yes, I will do that. I will talk to Miss Raynor and Mrs. Raynor can pull herself together. Tell me anything you can of the matter Miss Raynor."

"I went upstairs to my room and I sat a while looking out of the window. I saw Mr. Kent and Miss Dolly Raynor."

"You were then alone at the tea table, Mrs. Raynor?"

"The tea table had been removed. Mr. Dobbins, some time since. But, yes, I was then alone on the west terrace, where we had had tea."

"Where did you do?"

"Do? Why, nothing. I sat a moment, thinking I must go and dress for dinner, but delaying a few moments to enjoy the soft evening air and the fragrance of my flowers."

"And you sat there—until—"

"Until—Nan repeated, a faraway, reminiscent look in her eyes.

Just then Goddard gave a loud and emphatic "Ahem!" and Nan looked quickly at him.

No one could mistake the look on his face for anything but a sharp glance of warning.

Whereupon, Nancy Raynor drew herself together with a visible effort, and began to speak again.

"Why, yes, what was I saying? Oh, yes, I sat there until I heard that shot—yes, until I heard that shot, Mr. Dobbins."

"You are sure of this, Mrs. Raynor?"

"Yes, yes, perfectly sure—until I heard the shot."

"Yes, until Mr. Goddard attracted your attention just now. You were going to give me a different reply."

"No, I wasn't—oh, no, I wasn't! Why should I?"

"I don't know, I'm sure. Now, what time was it when you heard the shot?"

"I can't say, exactly. I didn't look at my watch. But it must have been a little before seven."

"Quarter before?"

"I don't know. Maybe."

"Well, then, you heard the shot—did you know at once where it came from?"

"I knew from which direction it came, and, of course, I ran that way."

"Into the sun parlor?"

"I don't know—ten or fifteen minutes of seven. I think. Then I heard the shot and I didn't at first think anything was wrong. I thought of somebody cleaning a gun, or shooting a bird—not a faintly you know, but those thoughts went through my mind. I went out in the hall, but it was so nearly dark I couldn't see anything. As I reached the stairs, a light appeared downstairs, and I hurried down."

"What did you see?"

"Miss Turner just going into the sun parlor."

"Or coming out?"

"Oh, I never thought of that! Yes, she might have been coming out."

"Think carefully now; I want to find out who was in the sun room about that time."

"Well, if she was coming out, she was backing out. I—I think she was, now I recollect the scene."

"Who else was there?"

"Oh, Nan was peering in at the west door, Mr. Finley was just inside the east door, and Mr. Raynor, my poor brother, lay on the floor in a dreadful heap."

"Who came next?"

"In a few moments Orville Kent came in at the back door, the south one, and he looked after Nan—Mrs. Raynor. But I must tell you that Mr. Finley had the pistol in his hand, and I can't see what further evidence you want than that."

With the expression of a Nemesis on her sharp, shrewd old face, Miss Raynor sat back in her chair and glared at Malcolm Finley.

"What have you to say, Mr. Finley?" asked Dobbins.

"Only this," Finley replied. "I was on the east veranda—finishing a cigarette, and thinking that as soon as I had finished it I would go up to my room. I heard the shot, and I darsay I tossed the cigarette away unconsciously as I ran in the direction of it."

"Then, you walked very swiftly. At any rate, I reached the west door of the sun parlor in a few seconds, and going in I found Mr. Raynor on the floor, a pistol by his side. I picked up the weapon—"

"Don't you know that was a wrong act?"

"I didn't stop to think of right or wrong. I picked it up almost unconsciously; at any rate, involuntarily. It was almost dark, I could with difficulty distinguish what had happened; and then, suddenly, the lights came on, and Miss Turner stood in the house doorway."

The Smartest Mid-Season Millinery Arrives!

Following closely upon the heels of our millinery buyer who just returned from a buying trip to New York, these hats arrived Saturday. Eagerly we examined them for we had anticipated something out of the ordinary as a result of this trip. Nor were we disappointed when we viewed the exquisite models that the hastily opened boxes revealed.

Models of gold and of silver Brocade, of Metal, Cloth in pastel and darker shades greeted us, stunning creations, no two alike and each showing some brand new idea. If you wish to see millinery that is exquisite in color, that is new in every detail of shape and trimming then you will not want to miss seeing the models here. Come in tomorrow, we delight in showing these lovely new hats.

Dance and Bridge Hats are New and Very Fashionable

Perhaps you've been waiting for long just the sort of hat that is here now in so many different effects. For brightening up an otherwise dull costume at the bridge party, for wear at the informal dancing party, to give tone and color to your fur trimmed coat, these new models in Metal Cloth and Lace could not be improved upon.

Dance Hats

Bridge Hats

They are made of the new Metal Cloth cleverly adorned with Lace, also Metallic. The exquisite pastel shades of Gold, Silver, Rose, Copen, Almond and a delicate Orange—the stunning, close fitting shapes—and, best of all, the dainty bit of tulle, fur or flowers that further trims them, make models of rare becomingness for any evening affair!

Brocades as well as metal fabrics of satin shapes close fitting or a bit wider effects, fashion alluring hats that are splendid for party wear. Many come in the brightest of metallic shades that so charmingly contrast with darker frocks. Others are in darker colors for those who prefer a hat to softly harmonize, rather than contrast.

Brilliant color is gained on many models by the clever use of jewels of various colors. These are found in converging lines on the crown or they may be used in the flower trimming, glittering bravely in the center of a blossom.

—sometimes, with a bit of embroidery woven into it is used over a plain metal cloth to give an effect of brocade. Often too, it is continued to make a graceful tuft of trimming at the side. Several models show this effect quite cleverly.

A Hat for Every Winter Costume

Now is the time of year when every woman looks forward to getting a new hat that is becoming to wear with her winter coat with its huge collar of fur. We've selected these charming models with just that in mind—we've chosen them that they might be close fitting, that they might be short in the back and certainly that they would be in beauty and rich colorings, fitting complements to the favored costumes for Fall. Choose your winter hat from this assortment.

Prices on These Models are $7.98 to $15

"No shots had been fired. Powder and shell were being hoisted into the turret and all safety precautions had been observed."

"Unusual and exciting care had been taken at every step and at present it is believed the accident cannot be attributed to electrical trouble."

Three of the men were killed outright by the blast. One was drowned when the access door in the rear of the turret was opened and four men fell overboard because the swing of the turret brought it back over the side of the vessel. The man drowned apparently was badly burned and sank immediately. The body was not recovered and the cruiser Raleigh took up a search for it.

The Trenton put about immediately after the accident and rushed at full speed to Norfolk to discharge the injured.

Admiral Eberle, chief of naval operations at once dispatched a message of sympathy to Admiral McCully, commander of the scouting fleet when he was informed of the disaster.

"Department deeply regrets accident on Trenton, and expresses heartfelt sympathy to officers and men of that vessel and to the relatives of those men who lost their lives or were injured in the performance of their duty," he said. The Trenton is one of the newest types of vessels in the navy; the scout cruiser. She displaces 7,500 tons and has an armament of ten six-inch guns as well as anti-aircraft and torpedo equipment. The Trenton had just completed her shakedown cruise after being commissioned, in the course of which she went to Bushier, Texas and brought the body of Major Robert W. Imbrie, murdered American consul at Teheran, to Washington for burial.

The accident recalls the catastrophe aboard the Mississippi off San Pedro, on June 13, when 48 men were killed in a gun explosion which was laid to a foul bore of one of the forward guns. The accident occurred during target practice.

Coolidge

Davis combined but there are reasons for a lesser vote this time for the Republican national ticket than in 1920 when Ohio was voting for his favor's son.

So far as electoral votes are concerned, however, the Ohio group of electors may be put down for President Coolidge. Even Democrats are inclined to concede the vote when they speak of having "a fighting chance" in the state.

The gubernatorial race has as usual a bearing on the situation. Two years ago Governor Donahue, Democrat, was elected notwithstanding that Harding carried the state by an overwhelming majority. This year Donahue is running for reelection and his Republican opponent is Harry L. Davis, who was elected governor four years ago.

Local issues always enter into a campaign and there are some people who think Donahue is stronger than he was in 1920 though one hears a great deal about scratched tickets which would indicate that the state and national tickets are not necessarily of the same strength. Donahue is probably stronger than John W. Davis, but the state and may help the latter along. President Coolidge probably is stronger than Harry Davis who might be assisted into office by the Coolidge vote.

Progressives To Cast Heavy Vote
The Republicans are fairly well organized. The Democrats are campaigning intensively for their ticket but the La Follette movement has the backing of the Scripps newspapers in Cleveland, Akron, Cincinnati, Columbus, and Toledo which means that the third party will make a good showing numerically in this state. The Scripps papers helped Wilson carry the state in 1916 which tends to corroborate the view that La Follette is drawing most heavily on the Democrats.

Here as in other states there is not much real enthusiasm for Coolidge. It doesn't manifest itself as enthusiasm, but rather silent approval. He hasn't been president long enough to really impress his personality on the electorate but his championship of the cause of conservatism, which means in this momentary economy in government and a maintenance of the present status of business has captured the business men so completely that even Democrats who might ordinarily vote for John W. Davis have been scared by the La Follette movement into casting their ballots for Coolidge. Nearly every strong state and there are a number of them being taken in all parts of the state—shows Coolidge ahead by a comfortable margin and the general trend of the state appears without doubt to be Republican.

Johnson Is Mum

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Rather subdued and with very little to say, Dan Johnson, President of the American League, is back from his vacation. The bombs which he hurled at Commissioner Landis and John McGraw all during the World's series, apparently have become exhausted for the time being.

"I have nothing say right now," Johnson said. "The more I think about it, the more I know these things take time." He pointed out it took more than a year to bring out the details of the White Sox scandal in 1919 and more than that to punish the guilty players.

Annexation of Wheelersburg Looms

Since the city of Portsmouth extended its eastern boundary lines to include the fast growing suburb of Sciotoville and has taken steps to provide city conveniences such as water, fire and police protection and paved streets, a movement is to be started soon, it is expected to bring the thriving village of Wheelersburg into the corporate limits of the River City.

Such a movement would be in line with that adopted by Huntington, W. Va., which city has taken in a long stretch of territory in the last several years. Addition of new territory has played an important part in increasing the prestige of that city not only in this section but throughout the country.

Those favoring the annexation of Wheelersburg point out that the addition of this thriving village would give a big boost to census figures, afford room for expansion in another direction, and in every way increase the importance of Portsmouth.

Advance Steps Made in Shoe Repairing Recounted at Meeting

That the business of being a shoe repairer is no longer the "cut and dry" job of old, but the possession of a real business, and that the business can be greatly benefited by the proper class of advertising, were the messages given to more than fifty shoe repairers from Huntington, Ashland, Ironton and Portsmouth, by A. N. Fingulin, editor of "Shoe Repair Service" magazine, at a banquet held in Huntington last night under the auspices of the Huntington Leather Company.

Mr. Fingulin was called to Huntington to perfect a shoe repairers' organization in that city and at the meeting last night at the Elks' Club, the editor of the shoe re-builders' periodical thoroughly sold to the audience the proposition of a local association.

The shoe men, representing the various cities of the tri-state region, were the guests of the Huntington Leather Company at the banquet.

Portsmouth shoe repairmen present were William F. Bierley, George Corryell, C. W. Corryell and W. H. Edison.

Ironton Man Hit By Auto, Dies

IRONTON, O., Oct. 21.—Injuries sustained at Jackson, Ohio, last Friday when he was struck by an automobile, proved fatal to Morgan M. Morgan, who died at the Marling Hospital here Sunday.

Mr. Morgan was an ex-convict miner and was partially disabled as a result of injuries received in the mines. He stopped in front of a machine driven by a youth, suffering a broken leg, fractured skull and other injuries. After receiving attention at Jackson he was brought here via the D. T. & I. Saturday, passing away several hours later at the hospital.

Mr. Morgan was 70 years of age and an uncle of Mrs. W. J. Little of 1823 South Sixth street.

Visited Here
Freeman Brewer of Cleveland paid a brief visit to his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stamm, 512 Second street, recently, when business interests brought him to this part of the state.

Arrests Follow Holdup

ASHLAND, KY., Oct. 21.—Two men giving their names as Morris Rude and Russell Parsons, charged with holding up and wounding Lindsay Conley on a Greenup county road Saturday night, were arrested in Huntington last night after the police of that city had been asked to co-operate with the Ashland department.

The police here state that there were four men in the party which held up the machine in which Mr. Conley was riding. Stopping him along the road they struck him over the head, taking fifty-five dollars from his pockets and threw him into their machine.

After carrying him to the Big Sandy Bridge near Catlettsburg, they threw him from the machine and left him lying beside the road, where he was found later.

He recovered from his injuries and will appear against the two prisoners when they are tried.

Claim G. H. S. Will Beat Local Gridders

Several Chillicothe high school football players accompanied by friends watched Portsmouth win over East high school, of Columbus, last Saturday. After the game the local county visitors were rather free in expressing their opinion of the caliber of the Red and Blue warriors this season. The C. H. S. players and backers claim they will beat Portsmouth by at least two touchdowns when they clash on the Sixteenth-street field Saturday, November 8.

There is no improvement in the condition of L. C. Peel, who continues seriously ill at his home on Court street.

Returns Home
Miss Eva Zimmerman has returned to her home in Cincinnati after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kilne of Lucasville.

Here Is Information For Hunters

In answer to numerous inquiries The Times prints the following concerning hunting on navigable waters:

Question. Is hunting on navigable waters or streams controlled by Federal laws?

Answer. No. Hunting on navigable waters and streams is governed by the laws of the states within the boundaries of which they are located. The center thread of the current usually constitutes the boundary line between states bordering on a stream. In some instances, however, one state may have jurisdiction to low-water mark on the opposite shore. In the case of the Potomac river, Maryland, has jurisdiction to low-water mark on the Virginia side. A similar condition exists on the Ohio river, due to the fact that in the cession of the northwest territory to the Union, Virginia ceded only that portion north and west of the Ohio river. The states of West Virginia and Kentucky thus have jurisdiction over the river to low-water mark on the Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois side. The Federal regulations under the migratory bird treaty act prescribe seasons and other restrictions on the hunting of migratory game birds, but these apply equally within the territorial limits of the various states and have neither more nor less application to navigable waters than elsewhere within the limits of the particular state in question.

If she only knew that she could put on at least 5 pounds of good, healthy flesh in 30 days she wouldn't be worrying about her peaked face and run-down looks.

She has tried Cod Liver Oil, but the unpleasant, nasty tasting stuff upset her stomach and made her feel worse than before.

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamins that make fresh, creates appetite, builds up the power to resist disease and chases away nervousness.

But it's horrible tasting stuff and every day fewer people are taking it for to doctors are prescribing and the people are fast learning that they can get better results with McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets which Fisher & Stretch, Worcester, Mass., Stewart's Cut Rate Drug Store, and drug dealers all over the country are having a tremendous demand for.

One woman gained 30 pounds in 22 days and if any skinny man or woman can't put on 5 pounds in 30 days, your druggist will gladly return the purchase price.

Horseshoe League

The leaders lost 4 games each last night, and this makes the race tighter. With last night games, the tournament is now half over and five of the eight teams are within four games of each other.

Doll and Craig are still leading by a margin of one game. Four games behind them comes Massie and Partlow and between these two teams stands three other teams, making it one of the best races of the year.

Massie and Partlow led the finger tossers with 39 to their credit.

They also led in points with 100 to their credit.

Massie was high man in ringers, with a total of 23, he also led in points with a score of 60.

For the first half Gardner is the leading man in ringers with 161 to his credit; Marlowe and Millson are next with 139.

Gardner also leads in points with 355, Mitchell next with 317 and Massie third with 345.

Team Millson and Wheeler, Massie and Partlow second with 223 3 2 2 2 in points with 618; Gardner and Thompson next with 608.

Mitchell made the most ringers in any one evening, hooking 30; Gardner and Massie next with 28.

FOSTER'S AIR TIGHT

A wonderful stove at a remarkably low price. Built of pure gray iron, with an all cast jacket surrounding the stove proper. This heater keeps its beautiful appearance without repolishing throughout the winter. Economical to operate owing to the fact that it is also a hot blast.

Sommer Brothers

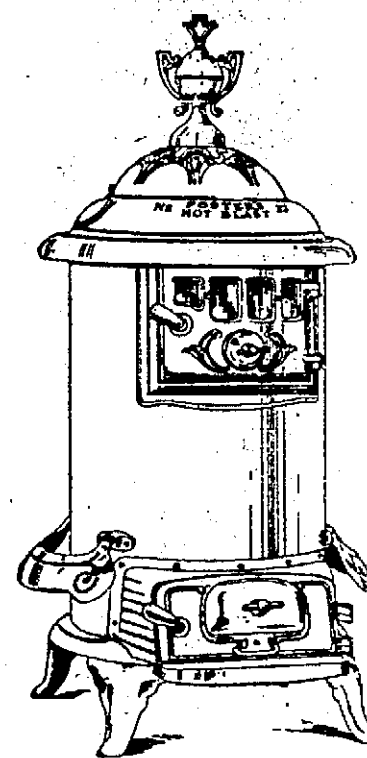

For real solid comfort where gas is used buy a Reznor. No flue connection necessary. Reznors give off no gases, odors, smoke or carbon monoxide. Made in nine sizes.

FOSTER'S HOT BLAST

The best of stove materials enter into the Foster Hot Blast. Armor iron is used in the steel body. Its heavy castings are made of pure gray iron. Ash pit bottom is a cast plate. Many stove companies use a thin sheet steel plate. Foster's Hot Blast consumes much of the smoke and gases that usually pass out the flue as wasted fuel.

Jones and Bernard M. Baruch, of New York City, were the only ones to contribute $25,000, the highest single contribution.
Wm. Gibbs McAdoo, defeated candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, and James M. Cox, the Democratic candidate for president in 1920, were not on the list as contributors.
John W. Davis, the party's nominee for president, gave $5,000, and his running mate, Governor Charles Bryan, contributed $500.
Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson, widow of Woodrow Wilson, gave $100.
Other large contributions were:
Henry Morgenthau, New York, $21,000.
C. W. Watson, Fairmount, W. Va., $15,000.

James W. Gerard, New York—$13,000.
Chas. L. Shaver, Davis' campaign manager—$10,000.

"Have any of the funds listed for publicity purposes been paid for newspaper editorials?" Walsh asked.
"No."

Shaver said he was unable to state if funds were spent for newspaper advertising.
Born asked if the committee had purchased any newspapers in Tennessee and Shaver replied in the negative. He added he knew of no money paid to speakers.
"I wish some one would buy The Banner in Tennessee and turn it over to your men," said Senator Caraway.
"It is Democratic all the time except election day."

When Shaver was excused, Born called for Samuel M. Vachin, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia, but there was no response.
"The committee then adjourned until 2:00 o'clock tomorrow."

Davis Held for W. Va. Officers
Edgar Davis, 26 years old, was taken into custody by county officers Monday night in Madison township in a charge to the county jail where he is held for the authorities of Fayetteville, West Virginia, where he is wanted to answer to a charge of larceny in connection with the alleged theft of $800 from A. Bandy on June 10, last.

According to information received by Sheriff Harry M. Dunham, Davis left West Virginia shortly after the time he was accused of the money theft, abandoning his wife and three of their six children at Fayetteville, and came to Scioto county accompanied by his three oldest children, locating on a farm in Madison township, where, the officers say, he has since been living with another woman and her three minor children.
An officer is expected to arrive tonight to return the prisoner to Fayetteville.

Courthouse Contracts Approved; Work To Start

The Courthouse Building Commission in session Tuesday at the Courthouse approved the recent award of contracts for the construction of the new courthouse and jail; authorized the chairman and secretary to approve the contracts when signed and considered other formal matters so as to clear the way for Contractors Taylor & Linn to start the actual work of executing their contract with as little delay as possible.

The work of razing the buildings from the site to make room for the new structure is now under way and a new temporary heating plant, to replace the old one removed, is now being installed to heat the old courthouse until the new building is completed.

Late this afternoon the big steam shovel of the S. Monroe & Sons company was moved to the courthouse site.

Empire Grange Fair Opens Thursday

Silent Bill Joins the Gang

Everywhere you turn in Central Park, New York City, you see a statue. But there's always room for one more. Here's the latest arrival, "William the Silent", a replica of the statue at The Hague.

Thursday morning the fifth annual Community Fair will open at Empire Grange hall on Powellville road just beyond Wheelersburg. The fair to continue through Thursday and Friday. The fair will be open morning, afternoon and evening. Taylor and Ault of Gallia street today installed a Delco lighting system so that the night sessions may be held. The system provides plenty of light for the ground around the Grange hall.

The premium list this year is twice as large as in past years. Premiums are provided in the following classes, Class A, draft horses; Class B, cattle; Class C, swine; Class D, poultry; Class E, grain; Class F, vegetables; Class G, apples; Class H, culinary (baked goods); Class I, arts; Class L, culinary, canned goods, jellies.

Special prizes are being offered for pig club, poultry club and clothing club exhibits. No entry fee is charged exhibitors.

In addition several contests will be held, including a chicken driving contest and wood chopping contest. A supply of焰火 was hauled to the Grange hall grounds today for the last named contest. On Friday night an entertainment will be staged by the Grange including a playlet by club members.

Here On Visit
Dave Price, who is located at Collierville, N. M. is visiting friends here. He was formerly employed in the Portsmouth Works Wheeling Steel Corporation.

Three business places, barber shop, restaurant and pool room in New Boston, were visited by thieves.

At the Ed Conley barber shop on Rhodes avenue opposite the red and wire mill office the lock on the front door was picked. About $15 in cash formed the loot here.

Next door the thief entered the American restaurant operated by Oscar North. Entrance was gained by forcing a rear window until the lock broke. A punch board containing several dollars in money and cheap jewelry formed the loot obtained here.

The New Boston pool room 4015 Gallia street was the other place visited. Entrance was gained by breaking through a door on a back floor. A screw driver was used to cut a hole in the panel, the thief reaching through the hole and unlocking the door. The same screw driver was used to force open a lock on a peanut machine. Between $4 and $10 was secured from the machine. The thief helped himself to package tobacco, scattering several packages about on the floor. Several boxes of candy were taken from a candy case in the front part of the pool room. The screw driver was left behind by the thief.

This is the third time in three weeks the pool room has been visited by a thief.

Drink Love Potion-Dying

PITTSBURGH, PA., October 21.—(By the United Press)—A woman is dying and her husband seriously ill in a hospital today as a result of drinking a "love potion."

The victims are Preston Miller, 40, hotel proprietor of Stowe township, and his wife, Mary, 38.

Police are holding Nick Filos, who resided at the Miller Hotel and who admitted he purchased the "love potion" at their request.

The couple were found in bed unconscious and when ordinary remedies failed to revive them, they were taken to the hospital, where it was found they were suffering from poisoning.

When Miller recovered consciousness, he told the story which resulted in the arrest of Filos.

GUARDSMEN PATROL HERRIN

HERRIN, ILL., Oct. 21.—(United Press)—Seventh national guardsmen, today patrolled the streets of Herrin on the Albert against another outbreak of violence in the Williamson county following the street fight in which S. Glenn Young, former K. K. K. liquor raider, is said to have participated.

Young, John Crompton and Leonard Burress, were arrested here last night by Deputy Sheriff Geo. Thompson, leader of the anti-lynch forces, and two squads of guardsmen he had asked to help him.

German Commander Cheered By Americans

NEW YORK, October 21.—(By the Associated Press)—An audience of 6,000 persons cheered the playing of "Deutschland Uber Alles" last night at a local theatre where the officers and crew of the ZR-3 were guests of the management. There was no trace of unfriendliness when Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the giant dirigible on her trans-Atlantic flight made a speech in German.

When the spotlight was turned on the box where Dr. Eckener and his staff of officers were seated, he arose and asked permission to speak in German. There was no protest. He told the huge crowd that overflowed into the lobby, that all misunderstanding between Germany and America was a thing of the past.

Commission Approves Addition; Argonne Road Will Be Extended

At a meeting of the City Planning Commission Tuesday a new plan submitted by the Bieri Realty Company was approved. The addition is called the McKinley Heights and is located behind the McKinley school building. The commission inspected the ground and approved the laying out of the lots and streets to be run through the new addition.

A plan of extending the Argonne road through the Arlington addition north of Bertia avenue, was brought up by President Charles Horst, and was approved by the board. In order to extend the road through this addition, Mr. Horst bought additional property.

ILLINOIS TEAM EASILY THE BEST BET IN THE WESTERN CONFERENCE

CHICAGO, October 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The team to dispute Illinois' claim to the 1924 title is the all-absorbing topic in the Western Conference as an aftermath of last week's contests.

The challenger may be provided this week, Chicago, the only team with a conference record equal to that of the Illini, which is meets November 8, will see a severe test in meeting Ohio State, conqueror of Purdue and third in the Big Ten rating.

Another contender is likely to emerge from the Iowa-Minnesota contest at Iowa City. Michigan temporarily out of the running as a result of its defeat by Wisconsin, has a chance to come back at Wisconsin's expense, but the Badgers, with a tie on their record, hope to advance their own standing.

In practice this week, Chicago's attack has worked more smoothly and its defense has improved. Particular attention has been directed by Coach Stagg to the aerial game he anticipates from Ohio State. At the Buckeye camp with the regulars in fine fettle, after the non-conference engagement last week, intensive drills are on the working program.

Coach Bill Spaulding at Minneapolis is experimenting with backfield shifts for Iowa, whose coaches are stressing fundamentals of line play and preparation of relief men.

A general recognition of Michigan whose players are far from discouraged at the outcome of Saturday's game, is being worked out with an improved team against Wisconsin the objective.

Northwestern and Illinois have future conference games in view during their workouts, their non-conference opponents, the Michigan Axemen and Denison, being expected to offer only average opposition, Purdue and Indiana have no games scheduled for this week end.

Yale And Brown Clash Next Saturday

NEW YORK, October 21.—Four of the unbeaten eleven of the east and south—LaFayette, W. and J., Centre and Williams—will participate in the three major games to be played in New York next Saturday.

LaFayette and Washington and Jefferson will resume their gridiron debates which, in the last two years, have been as closely contested as the recent world series. W. and J. won 14 to 13, two years ago. Last season the score was 6-6. The game will be played at the Yankee Stadium.

Football history of recent years is also intertwined with the Centre-West Virginia battle at the Polo grounds. Centre, now without its famous touch, Charlie Moran, played a nothing-to-nothing tie with Vulpurais in its first game, but crushed Transylvania last Saturday. Despite its 14-7 defeat by Pittsburgh the Morgantown team appears to be much the stronger and may turn off the spotlight, which it focused on Centre four years ago.

The third important clash of the weekend here will be the Columbia-Williams battle at Bakerfield, Williams, by repeating its victory of last season, would remove its last formidable obstacle to an undefeated season. Columbia, though defeated by Penn, appears to be stronger than last year.

Other major eleven report a remarkably good physical condition, going into the semi-final stage of the season.

Trinceton is bursting with confidence in its ability to go out and get the score was 6-6. The game will be played at the Yankee Stadium.

Harvard experiences a similar reaction from the Holy Cross game, which was won in the last quarter, and with three regulars out. These men, including Gehring, will be ready for Dartmouth and the Crimson is preparing to stop the foe which outplayed Yale.

Observers of the Yale form are of the opinion that "Ted Jones" signal is shaping into a team which will rival its great predecessor when November's important battles are fought. Yale uncertainly Brown on Saturday.

Ledger and Rogers, two of the undefeated teams, the first tied by Princeton and the second victor over Cornell, brush their form in preparation for the struggle, which means death to one next Saturday.

VALUABLE MAN POWER LOST BY CHURCH, HE SAYS

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Much valuable man power is lost to the church, Fred Greiner, of Meriden, Conn., said today in an address before the fourth convention of the Lutheran Brotherhood of the United Lutheran Church in America.

Last night the brotherhood held a reception and banquet. Speakers included Dr. W. A. Hanson, president of Pennsylvania College, at Gettysburg; Dr. Harry C. Boner, of Washington, and Dr. J. E. Krueger, president of Midland College, Fremont, Neb.

SENATOR LODGE DOING WELL AFTER OPERATION

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge today underwent a second operation at a private hospital here, in which Dr. John H. Cunningham removed a "large but benign gland" that had been the cause of the complaint. The patient was said to have passed through the operation satisfactorily.

Conference Scoring

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Although Indiana held the cellar position in the Western Conference football standings, the Hoosiers made four points in all the games played this season, thus any other big team. Northwestern, also a tail ender in the conference race so far, was third in the tabulation of all season scores, with Illinois, Big Ten leader, second.

Ohio State, last in the list, had the unique distinction of being not scored on since the season opened.

Western conference total points, all games:

Team	Points	Opponents Points
Indiana	100	43
Illinois	88	30
Northwestern	83	7
Purdue	69	23
Michigan	62	39
Wisconsin	56	14
Iowa	56	3
Chicago	41	7
Cincinnati	31	0
Ohio	17	0

HERE ON A VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. William Allen of Cincinnati are visiting Portsmouth relatives.

All Coffeyville Honors Johnson

COFFEYVILLE, Kas., Oct. 21.—The hero of many demonstrations, Walter Johnson received Monday from his hometown probably the greatest tribute ever accorded him in his long career as an idol of baseball.

And Johnson returned his thanks for the day of hero worship by presenting to Coffeyville a ball game.

Before a crowd of 10,000 persons he pitched the Coffeyville Refiners to a victory over the Caney, Kas. Blues. Eleven of the invaders were felled down by way of the "smoke ball route" and then in the ninth inning Johnson cracked out a sacrifice hit that paved the way for the winning run.

The homecoming for the world series idol was the biggest day in Coffeyville history.

And the veteran Washington hurler declared it was one of the biggest days in his life or big days.

Work was forgotten while the whole city joined in honoring Johnson. Business houses, offices and schools closed for the celebration. Aside from the ball game, a parade was the principal feature of the homecoming. In the flashy new sedan given him by Washington admirers, Johnson with his family headed the triumphal procession. Walter sat in the front seat beside Mrs. Johnson who drove the car. He wore a gray Washington uniform.

In the line of march were bands and cars bearing city officials and representatives of civic organizations.

Woman's City Club Has Endorsed Three Mill Levy

At an executive board meeting of the Woman's City club held Monday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. William H. Schwartz, on Sixth street, the members unanimously endorsed the "Additional Three-Mill Levy" to be voted upon by the citizens of Portsmouth on Tuesday, November 4. The majority of voters do not understand this measure. They are fearful that it will add an additional burden to their taxes, when such is not the case. The levy will not increase the taxes one penny. The people have been paying this tax for the past five years and this year they are asked to vote the same amount for the next five years. From the general tax fund, an amount is always set aside for schools. The state allows communities to vote extra amounts for that purpose, and five years ago the taxpayers of this community voted this three-mill levy for five years. Now they are called upon to do the same thing for another five years. It is absolutely necessary to renew this levy if the splendid schools of Portsmouth are to keep open during the school term, so don't forget to vote "Yes" on the three-mill levy.

Decision Displeased Fans

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 21.—(United Press.)—Whit enticalls and hisses reverberated through the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium here last night, Johnny O'Keefe, Columbus, former local flyweight amateur champion, received the referee's decision over Howard "Kid" Alvin of Chillicothe.

The decision was unpopular and the feeling was so strong in the audience that it could not be quieted for some time. The bout was a six round, preliminary to a double "main go" program in which Young Terzen Columbus, defeated Jack Webb, Columbus, and Mike O'Dowd was given the decision over Lou Bloom, Columbus.

Ringsiders saw a "corner" in the Chillicothe boy who carried the fight to the plucky little Columbus Irishman. Alvin was given a long and loud ovation as he left the ring. Alvin weighed 128 pounds and O'Keefe 130.

Dahlia Thief Busy

Frank Emmett, night desk sergeant at the police station, would like to get his hands on the flower thief who has been visiting his back yard and stealing beautiful dahlias. The thief not only takes the flowers, but breaks down the big bushes heavily laden with flowers.

World Record For Koppisch

WALTER KOPPISCH
Walter Koppisch, captain and star of Percy Haughton's Columbia team, is in the midst of a world's record.

Koppisch enjoys the unique distinction of captaining the Columbia team for the third successive year. He is also playing his fourth year of college football.

When the game was revived at Columbia, Koppisch, a freshman, was permitted to play. Because of his fine work he was elected captain in the sophomore year.

Koppisch is versatile. He can hit the line or run an end. Very fast, he is a brilliant receiver of forward passes. He can also throw them and does most of his team's punting.

A rather handy young man to have. DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT IN SIGHT, REPORT SAYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(United Press.)—"Victory of law and order over the outlawed liquor traffickers" is in sight, the federal prohibition unit said today in a statement covering 20 months of Commissioner Haynes' administration.

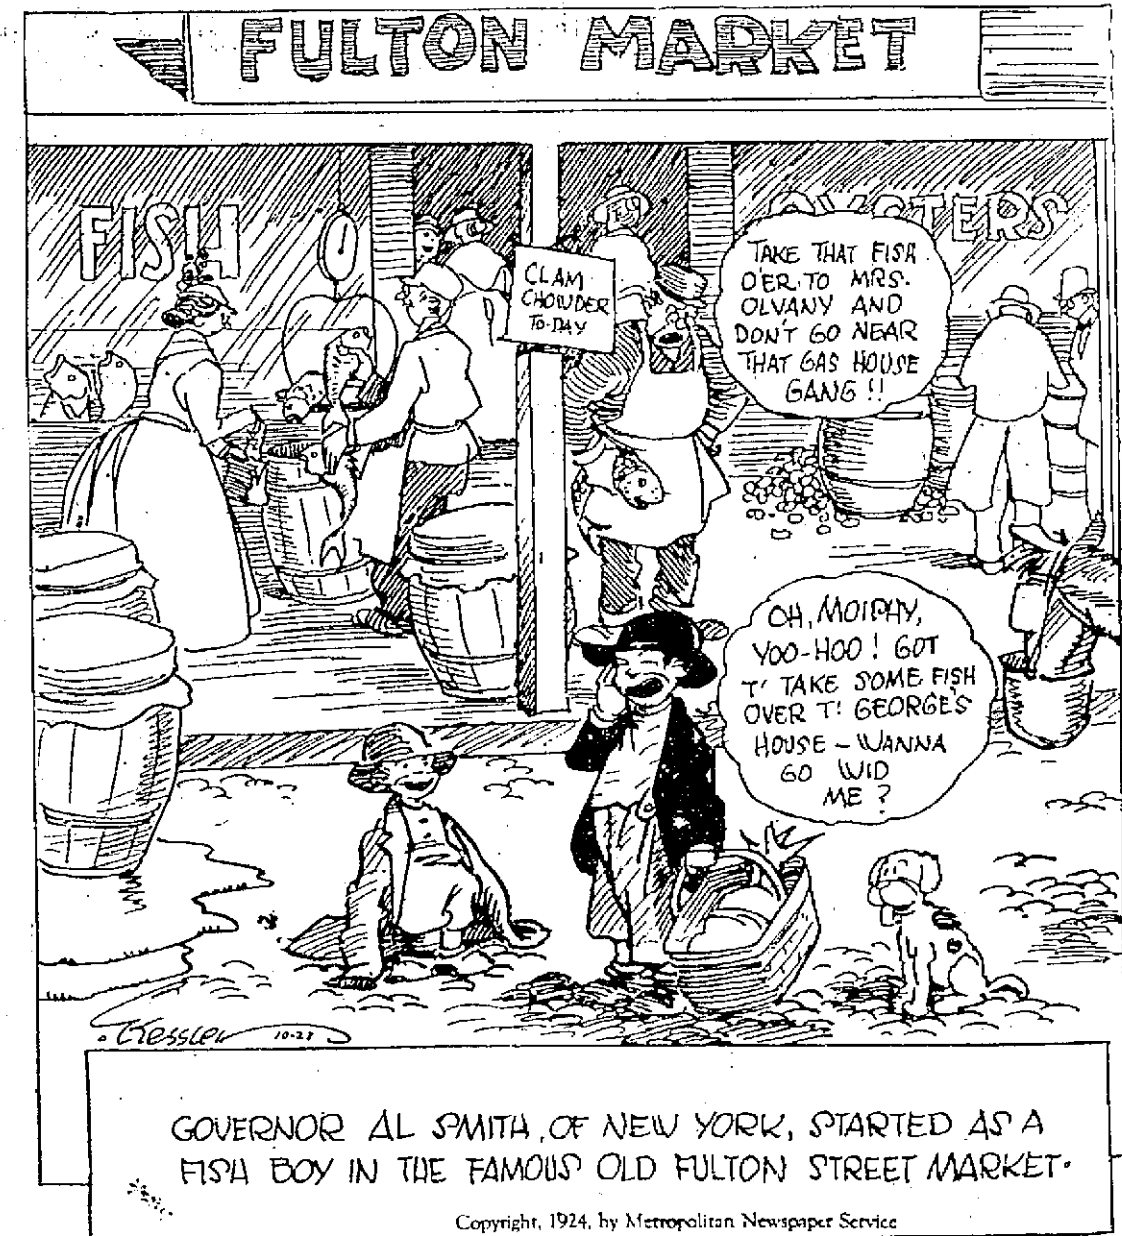

Enforcement is becoming more effective every day, the statement says. Genuine liquor now is almost impossible to obtain, the report adds.

DROWNED WHILE SWIMMING

HONOLULU, October 21.—(United Press.)—C. S. District Attorney for Hawaii, was drowned yesterday afternoon when caught in the undertow while swimming at Waikiki Beach. His body was washed out to sea. More than 50 persons have been drowned near where Mr. Carden lost his life.

HEADACHE GONE TIRED NO MORE

Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Hopes Other Women Will Benefit by Her Experience

Skowhegan, Maine.—"I was sick most of the time and could not get around to do my work without being all tired out so I would have to go to bed. One day when I was reading the paper I saw the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertisement and saw what it did for other women, so I thought I would try it. I have taken three bottles, and cannot begin to tell you what it has already done for me. I do all my work now and keep up the whole day long without lying down. I have no more headaches nor tired feelings. I hope every woman who takes the Vegetable Compound will get as much benefit out of it as I have."—Mrs. Percy W. Richardson, R.F.D. No. 2, Skowhegan, Maine.

You have just read how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped Mrs. Richardson. She gave it a trial after she saw what it had done for other women. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been doing good.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the subtlest for constipation, for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not constipate, but cleanse the bowels, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cleanse the bowels and liver to normalcy. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" and breath that is full of "foul" constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. See and Adv.

KEEP KEARNS AT HOME

HENRY FORD, in discussing the withdrawal of his offer for the Muscle Shoals property, said that had he been able to buy it, it would have meant cheaper power, light and fertilizer for the country. However he faced the opposition of the power and other interested trusts controlled by Wall Street interests and they blocked his deal through a campaign propaganda and with the assistance of congressmen. Following this President Coolidge expressed his regret that Mr. Ford had withdrawn his offer and hoped that he would renew it.

At once the question arises, where does this leave Congressman Charles C. Kearns? Of all the congressional puppets who danced at the behest of the power trusts, Mr. Kearns stood out most conspicuously. He fought early and late to hamstring the Ford offer and boasted that he had killed the proposition. How will Kearns align himself with Coolidge, who approves the Ford offer? Will Kearns crawl back again, until after election?

If he should go back to Washington will he again be found fighting the interests of the masses for the interests of the monopolies? That is something for the voters of the Sixth district to think about when they go to the polls. And anyway what has Mr. Kearns done to justify his return to Washington? He has been in congress for ten years. Can any one point to a single constructive act he has sponsored or even advocated? Has he done anything except to vote the way Nick Longworth tells him to vote and draw his salary? Can any voter in Scioto county point to a solitary thing Kearns has ever done for this county? He has never by voice or vote shown sympathy for Ohio river improvement and the damper he threw on the celebration over the opening of the dam below Portsmouth is vividly remembered.

He has hooted and jeered at Republicans from this county who sought to defeat him at the primaries and his throat cutters at home and abroad have circulated all sorts of campaign tales against Scioto county candidates. He has had no use for Scioto county except to depend upon a majority here to win the election for him.

In the face of Mr. Kearns' colorless record, in the face of contemptuous disregard of this county and her public men, do you not think, Mr. Voter that it is time to send Mr. Kearns back to his home in the Hamilton county border town and his practice of law in Cincinnati?

THE MORGANS AGAINST DAVIS

TREASURER HODGES, of the Republican National convention, testifying before the senate campaign committee, last week, revealed the fact that members of Morgan and Co. were among the early and generous contributors to the Republican campaign fund, each one donating up into thousands.

Much ado has been made over the fact that John W. Davis has on divers occasions appeared as counsel for the Morgans. Of course, the inference was sought to be conveyed that his political views would be warped by the interests of these particular clients.

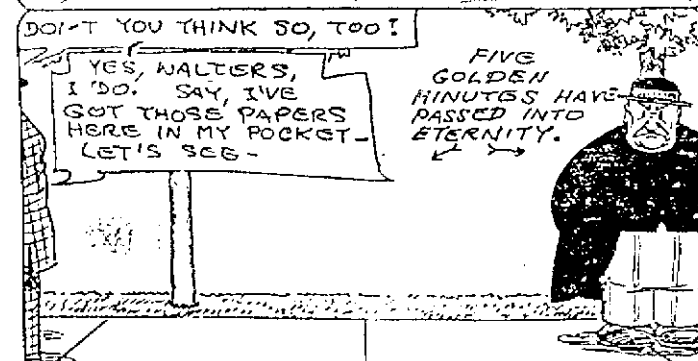

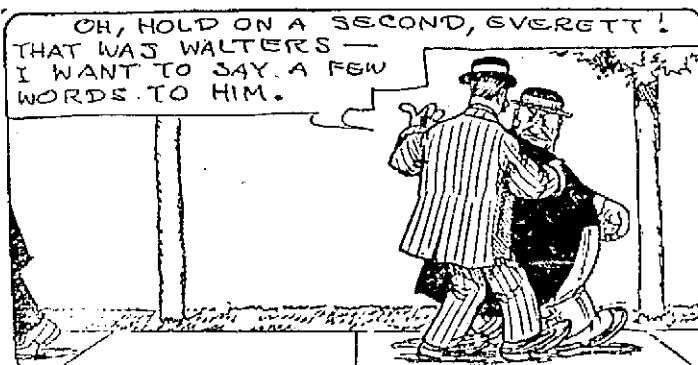

Davis is a great lawyer, in fact, he is esteemed the greatest in the country. His knowledge and his acquirements are at the disposal of any client who has a just case. The assumption that his personal views would be directed by anyone employing him is altogether preposterous. Any lawyer will defend an automobile thief, but no one supposes from that fact that he thereby himself favors the stealing of cars.

Morgan and Company know they never bought more of John W. Davis than his legal services. They realize full well that in him the greatest money power in the country would have no advocate in the White House. That is why they are putting up their thousands to help elect Coolidge—they want "a friend at court", as they always have with a Republican president.

Incidentally to this subject, it is observed that Treasurer Hodges gives the names of a legion of persons, who have given his committee up into the tens of thousands. The majority of them seem to be obscure individuals. Chairman Borah, of the senate committee should look specially into these names and determine whether they are squandering their own money or somebody else's.

HAPPINESS OF NEWLY WED DAUGHTER MAY RECONCILE STILLMANS

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Will a mutual desire for the happiness of their newly wed daughter unravel the tangled lives of James A. Stillman and his wife?

Wealthy residents of Westchester county discussed this possibility today as rumors and counter rumors flew thick and fast that a reconciliation between the former president of the National City Bank of New York, and Anne Lequahart Stillman is imminent, following the marriage of their pretty daughter to Henry P. Davison Saturday.

In New York the "other woman" also considered the report. She is Flo Leeds whose son Jay Ward Stillman will return from school in Europe next week.

A HUG AND KISS WORTH $2000 SHE SAYS COLUMBIUS, Oct. 21.—A hug and a kiss are valued at $2,000 by Harriet Boyle in a suit filed today against Samuel Kresge. She charges Kresge, while in her home Sept. 5 "forcibly put his arms around her and forcibly kissed her."

As a result she has "spent many sleepless nights and has suffered a nervous breakdown," according to her petition.

SMASH THE COURT HOUSE RING

THE TIMES warmly commends the ticket presented by the Democrats of Scioto county to the voters. We believe the best interests of the county demand a change in the administration of affairs at the court house. The ring in control of the Republican party has had control of the county so long that it has grown reckless and extravagant. It has gotten so that a clique made up of families and their favorites monopolizes the offices. Thus we have relatives and deputies lined up for succession, and independent Republicans have no chance to capture a nomination against the court house ring.

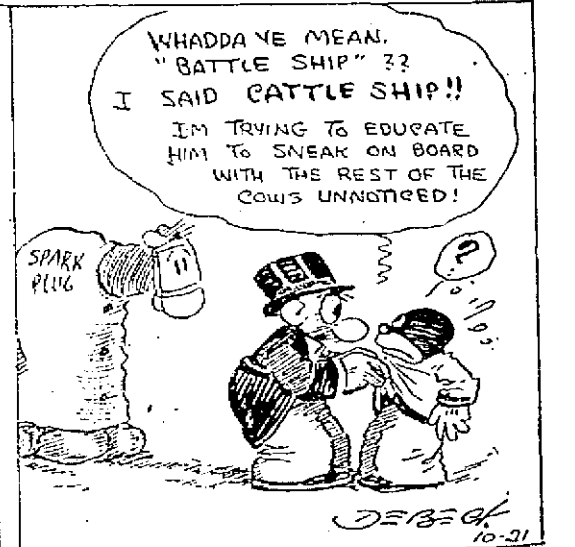

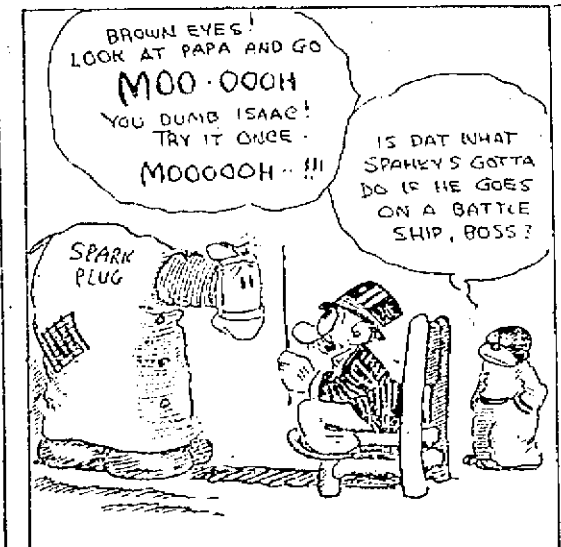

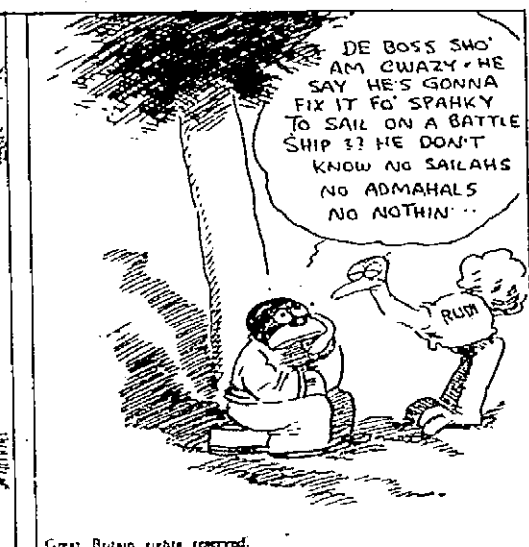

This year the Democrats present an exceptionally strong and well qualified group of men for office. There is Jacob J. Gehres for treasurer, Harry Sheets for sheriff, Mrs. Lydia Rowe for recorder, Mr. C. M. Shively for clerk, John Jones for representative, William Bennett and Charles Burcham for commissioners, all splendid citizens and capable. They should be elected. They will give the people of Scioto county a new deal, and they will see to it that the people's money is spent wisely and economically.

The time has come to smash the court house ring in Scioto county. Some reasons have been given in The Times. There will be more instances cited, some of them of rather startling nature.

Paw's Not Equal To The Part

Doc Koko's KOLUM

Verse And Verse
His his is the punkest poet
We've met in quite a long time;
His meters don't mete, his rhythms
don't rhyme,
And his rhymes, they do not rhyme.

'Tis not our scented tresses
That rouse my strong desires,
Nor breath of fragrant blossoms
That fans the hidden fires.

But still a vagrant odor
Has charmed me with its powers—
Love, sure me that belted valdage
I've smelled the last two hours?

Har! Har!
American (in London)—"Sag waiter, doesn't anybody ever laugh in this hotel?"

Waiter—Well, yes, sir, we have had complaints.

But They Have a Nice Pick!
"That fellow gets a cold, shoulder every time he comes in here."
"Who's that?"
"The ice man."

The Fortune Hunter
Riggs—"The time my wife and I were married she had only four dollars and a half."
Riggs—"Well, what about it?"
Riggs—"Well, we took the five dollars."

The Old Cry
"Yes, I have two boys in college."
"What is their job?"
"Money, money, MONEY!"—Whirlwind.

Altruistic
"Would you mind driving a little slower, old man?"
"Not getting scared, are you?"
"Oh, no, nothing like that, but I'd like to take an unfair advantage of my life insurance company."

Pianoforte
The Hostess—"Thank you so much
Mr. Krashofski, for your beautiful playing. What do you think of the piano?"
The Pianist—"Ah, Madame, I do not in English, know how to politely express, but if it were an automobile, it is what they call it in America the Elizabeth of tin."

Infantry For Him
Sam—"Why don't you all join de cavalry, Rustus?"
Rustus—"Boy, when da blow dal horn RESTREAT, ah don wanna be encumbered wid no hawse."

How He Knew
"Changed your brand of sharing soap, haven't you?" asked Uncle Pen-wise of the barber.
"Yes, sah. Feels smoother!"
"No, tastes different."

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—There are a dozen street mayors in New York.
All save two are Jews. The locality mayor is typical of New York and is emblematic of the soul of the East Side where the foreign born rather enjoy idolizing a celebrity.

Papa Burger is Mayor of Avenue
D. Others are Frank Dostal of Avenue B.; Morris Eisenstein of First Avenue; Abe Fagin of Hunt's Point;
Joe Levy of Second Avenue and also the Duke of Essex Street; Hugh Masterman of Eighth Avenue; Stitch
McCarthy of Grand Street; George
McKegney of Harlem; Kardolick
Phillips of Balmace street; Edward Rosenstein of Broome and Uncle
Nathan Vlodinger of Eldridge street.

The first locality Mayor of New York was Patrick Connolly of Tenney Hollow. He was so named by Charlie Lynch, one of the height reporters of Bronx's Sun. They were companions in the old Essex Market
Court 30 odd years ago.

The locality mayor is what they call a "fix-a-bird" for the neighborhood. He goes after landlords who do not repair leaky pipes or furnish plenty of steam heat. He helps tenants who are short in their rent and settles neighborhood quarrels.

He lends money without interest and he latches up domestic quarrels.
In return he carries the votes of the neighborhood in his vest pocket. Nobody knows exactly just how he manages his money, but they have their suspicions.

They have plenty of money. The Duke of Essex Street wears a $500 diamond in his shirt and gave his daughter a $20,000 necklace as a wedding present. He is said to be worth $500,000 and there is no question about the authenticity of his Bulls-Roses, Riverside Drive apartment and Jay vale.

The locality mayors battered their way up from obscurity. Most of them were newsboys in the days when to "hold a corner" meant process with the fist.

All the world at some time or other drifts through the Waldorf's Peacock Alley. During a half hour loaf there I saw Irvin Cobb, Irving
Berlin, Lee Shubert, Harry Kemp,
George Maginnis, Charles Frank
Gusson, Will Irwin and Frank A.
Munsey.

Padlocking has had small effect on Broadway's supper club ambitions. For next month ten new clubs are scheduled to open. Decorators are all ready at work on them. They are to be sumptuous places and the new plan is to admit only those al-lurely known to the head waiter to be "right." New York has been fed up on Russian celdars and Czech Slovak roofs and the new note in decorations is toward simplicity. Servants and waiters who went to Europe when their cafes were shot out from under them have been asked to return and take their stands behind the silken ropes.

Old customs are not easily thrown off. Each morning a man leaves his home and with a jug shuffles along in slippers to a hydrant near Jefferson Market. He fills the jug with water and returns home. He is a Frenchman who has lived many years in Algiers where he formed this habit of going to the community well.

There is a prize fight authority in New York who always sickens at the sight of blood. He has attended hundreds of fights but whenever the "claret" flows he is nauseated.
